Tom Bissell (b. 1974), a travel writer and novelist, is the son and grandson of Marine officers who served in Vietnam. The destruction of South Vietnam was followed by the destruction of his parents' marriage. Father of All Things is Bissell's attempt to learn more about these events and the connection between them.

~~Vietnam Book Review: The Father of All Things~~

We must know that war is common to all and strife is justice, and that all things come into being through strife necessarily. War is the father of all and king of all; and some he shows as gods, others as men, some he makes slaves, others free. Gods and men honor those who are slain in battle.

As he did in that book, so too in "The Father of All Things", Tom has written an eminently readable autobiographical/historical work as a result of what seems to be a prodigious amount of research. The historical material in this work, concerning the Vietnam war, and the actions and motivations of key political figures in it, is a synopsis of the views and thoughts of many another writer.
